The video also showcases the Suprema BioStation 3, demonstrating how face authentication can enhance both security and efficiency across the business, while reducing the risk of buddy punching. It's a clear illustration of how even smaller companies can benefit from a tailored, high-performance time and attendance solution from timeware®.

Employee Self Service...

A workplace with limited infrastructure?

The timeware® ESS Go solution, paired with low-cost Puck attendance points (just £80 each), offers a smart, affordable way to manage time and attendance – with no cabling and no biometric hardware required.

Employees simply tap their phone near the Puck to record their arrival or departure. The ESS Go app captures the date and time, instantly updating the timeware® system for real-time visibility.

Ideal for hybrid workers, remote sites, mobile teams, and temporary setups, offering an affordable, easy-to-deploy solution for SMEs.
